TOWSON SELECTED ROSES

IT HAS always been our aim to offer to our friends the very best in Roses, and it is with pride and pleasure that we present our selection for this year. Included in the list are some of the finest of the new Roses, as well as the standard and well-tried varieties. Our Roses are strong, field-grown, budded plants, established in pots, so that they can be moved to your garden with perfect safety at any time after the planting season opens, bringing to your home grounds beauty galore and an abundance of fragrant blooms from June until frost. We are prepared to supply the varieties described in this list, in any quantity; however, since all plants are subject to prior sale, order immediately for complete selection and a full and continuous blooming season.
